SUBJECT: Professional Referral for Ahmed Dhain Saeed

It is my pleasure to provide this referral for Ahmed Dhain Saeed (A161199), who served as a freelance software developer, from April 13 to May 7, for our logistics business intelligence project, Dahlia Core. During this period, Dhain was responsible for the end-to-end architecture and implementation of this complex operations management tool.

Dahlia Core is a robust, offline-first desktop application designed to centralize our entire shipment lifecycle. Dhain, successfully translated our vision into a high-performance command centre that manages everything from multi-level shipment tracking and container logistics to storing important documents and automated demurrage monitoring. The resulting application has significantly reduced our reliance on fragmented spreadsheets and improved our operational reliability.

Dhain, is a disciplined, innovative, and highly skilled engineer who delivers scalable solutions for complex industrial problems. I have no hesitation in recommending him for any software development or architectural role.

Sincererly,

Mohamed Saeed
